

The Chilean Government extended the quarantine restriction until, June 5th. The quarantine is mandatory for all the Metropolitan Santiago Area, so we are rescheduling the services for the next weeks, as a result of our commitment to protect our employees and customers.

Unipack is operative in other areas of the country and also the Chilean Customs does. The airports and ports continue to handle cargo, however, the transportation services from ports and airport are restricted only to medical supplies, food, and perishables.

We will continue monitoring the situation and advise any updates and new information when available.

UNIPACK offices remain operatives from home and all customer's and agent's requests will be answered.
